

This topographic map illustrates the Fulåbergsturen area in Sweden. A prominent red dashed line traces a route through the terrain, which is characterized by dense contour lines indicating elevation changes. The map features several water bodies, including the Österdalälven river and numerous lakes and ponds. Key settlements and locations are labeled, such as Selja, Mora, Vika, and Fulåberg. The map also shows a network of roads and railways. A scale bar at the bottom left indicates distances from 0 to 3 kilometers.